

Commercial Litigation

Bullivant Houser Bailey's Commercial Litigation practice is led by some of the firm's most experienced trial lawyers—professionals who understand that our clients' future often depends on the outcome of a case. Our experience allows us to identify effective legal strategies that position the case for a positive outcome with maximum speed and minimal disruption. Where a negotiated dispute resolution is possible, our attorneys have proven adept at negotiating favorable results. If negotiations fail and the case proceeds to trial, we draw upon the considerable skill of our trial-tested professionals to steer the case to verdict.

Given the wide variety of complex commercial litigation issues, our practice uses a team approach—bringing together the appropriate mix of senior litigators, associates, paralegals, and support staff. To provide the best possible service to our clients, we maintain a broad capability, handling commercial litigation matters in the United States, Europe, and Asia.

Our commercial litigation cases have included a full range of complex legal issues, including:

- Aiding and abetting liability
- Business torts
- Civil RICO
- Contractual disputes
- Director and officer liability
- Fiduciary duty claims
- Minority shareholder disputes
- Partnership and corporate disputes
- Patent and trademark disputes
- Products liability claims
- Securities fraud and antitrust violations
- Trade secret disputes